Student Learning Outcomes – ANTH PHD

1.0 Make an original and substantial contribution to the social science disciplines.

1.1 Think independently, linking academic and grassroots knowledge to develop questions, concepts, and methodologies

1.2 Identify new research opportunities, focusing on the study of alternatives, possibilities, real utopias.

1.3 Analyze social, political, economic and environmental issues in interconnection

1.4 Keep abreast of current advances within one's field and related areas, cultivating dialogue between theory and practice

2.0 Demonstrate advanced research skills

2.1 Synthesize existing knowledge, identifying and accessing appropriate resources and other sources of relevant information and critically analyzing and evaluating one's own findings and those of others

2.2 Master application of existing research methodologies, techniques, and technical skills with a special emphasis on ethnography and an integral, activist approach to research that integrates the community into research practice

3.0 Demonstrate commitment to participation in the community of scholars

3.1 Show commitment to personal professional development through engagement in professional societies, publication, and other knowledge transfer modes

3.2 Show commitment to supporting and promoting learning through teaching, collaborative inquiry, or professional practice

4.0 Demonstrate ability to situate scholarship in relationship to social and personal transformation

4.1 Show commitment to constructing research contexts of dialogue between academics and community members
5.0 Demonstrate professional skills

5.1 Adhere to ethical standards in the discipline

5.2 Listen, give, and receive feedback effectively

5.3 Communicate in a style appropriate to the discipline and setting