Toward a Planetary and Participatory Education in the Americas: A Multidimensional Platform

Thursday Nov 19th,
9 am - 5 pm,
Namaste Hall

California Institute of Integral Studies,
San Francisco

A host of CIIS faculty and students along with guests will present on various topics that focus on the multidimensionality of knowing, its relation to the “vertical axis of education,” and the pursuit of wisdom, or knowledge from within. The vertical axis of knowing and education can be geographically, somatically, and psycho-spiritually understood in terms of a North-South dialogue.

A direct experience that speaks of intuitive and creative modes of inquiry is a vital characteristic of the North-South dialogue of the Americas. The forum aims at being an experimental vessel in which to engage in participatory inquiry by weaving together multiple ways of knowing that uncover a deep embodied wisdom and contribute to the deepening of integral education. Topics to address include: Embodied Spirituality, Essential Shamanism, Deep Ecology, Integral Education, and more.
