Optional Practical Training (OPT)

Optional Practical Training (OPT) is most commonly used by F-1 students to gain work experience in their field of study after completing a degree program, but there are certain other situations in which OPT may be possible prior to completion of a degree program. OPT has a cumulative maximum of 12 months per degree sought. No offer of employment is required to apply for OPT, but the student is expected to work during the OPT authorized validity period. Students on post-completion OPT are limited to a maximum of 90 days of unemployment. All OPT must be completed within 14 months following completion of study. Students who have been authorized for 12 months of OPT are eligible for another 12 months of OPT when they change to a higher educational level.

Four Types of OPT:

1. Vacation Period Practical Training: A student may work full or part-time in a job related to his/her field of study during the breaks between semesters if the student is currently enrolled and intends to register of the next term of the session.

2. While School is in Session: A student may work up to 20 hours per week during the academic year in employment related to his/her field of study.

3. Thesis Practical Training: A student may work full or part-time in employment related to his/her study when all course requirements are completed for the degree and he/she is working on his/her thesis.

4. Post-Completion Practical Training: When all the work for a degree has been completed, the student may work full or part-time. This is the most commonly used OPT at CIIS.
